June 18, 2025

COLUMBUS, Ohio--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jun. 18, 2025-- Installed Building Products, Inc. (the "Company" or "IBP") (NYSE: IBP) earned the National Preferred Partner Award from David Weekley Homes' 21st annual National Preferred Partner Survey. The award recognizes field and manufacturing partners who have consistently operated at world-class quality and customer service levels, as determined by the home builder's supplier evaluation platform.

For the fifth consecutive year, IBP is one of only 12 companies named a National Preferred Partner in the field partner category. IBP was one of 118 companies evaluated by David Weekley Homes, with just 20% achieving the distinction of National Preferred Partner.

"This recognition is a testament to our team's commitment to efficient and effective partnership with our customers, including the team at David Weekley Homes," said Jeff Hire, President of External Affairs at IBP. "We're committed to building on this progress and success while bringing our commitment to outstanding, reliable service to every project."

The National Preferred Partner Survey format consists of two questions with a 1-to-5 rating system for partners, which is sent to David Weekley Homes team members currently doing business with them in their market. The evaluation process involves a comprehensive system of feedback and discussion to measure companies' quality and customer service, enabling David Weekley Homes to measure excellence among all established trade partners and their channel partners.

"We are incredibly grateful for our strong partnerships with our National Preferred Partners who consistently go above and beyond expectations, helping us deliver high-quality products to our customers," said John Schlegg, Vice President of Supply Chain Services, David Weekley Homes.

Providers that receive the highest scores throughout the year are presented with the prestigious National Preferred Partners Award.
